

WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

ORDERING SODIUM POTATO POOL IS FOR FARMERS HERE MINNESOTA PLAN

War Explosive Can Be Obtained Through County Agents Exchange List.

Southern Wisconsin farmers will have opportunity to obtain and learn how to use the new salvaged explosive, sodium, recently made available to Wisconsin. In Walworth county, J. J. Merriam has made arrangements with W. A. Rowlands of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture to hold 12 demonstrations the first four days in October.

In Rock county the Farm Bureau has sent out blanks to farmers to determine their wants of sodium and for listing livestock and farm products. Sufficient orders are expected in the counties to make up one or more carload shipments to be used for clearing work. The cost is estimated at $5.00 a hundred without fuses or caps.

The new explosive is a combination of two surplus war materials and is put up in the form of dynamite similar to ordinary dynamite. There are about 240 cartridges to a hundred pounds and to facilitate handling it is packed in 10 pound boxes. It is for stick, sodium is declared to be equal in strength to 40 percent dynamite and the explosive does not freeze and does not rot. Orders are being taken in both counties by the county agents.

Special effort is being made by the Farm Bureau of Walworth county to put up a valuable exchange list. Previous lists have resulted in great sales of grains, seeds, stock and machinery. There are calls daily on livestock and a list of both grade and purebred cattle will bring results. It was stated, "Outside buyers are coming in strong for dairy cattle and there must be an effort to locate the stock they want."

TO ASSEMBLE CATTLE FOR GUERNSEY SALE HERE BY OCT. 11TH

All cattle for the Southern Wisconsin Guernsey sale to be held in the Rock county pavilion, Janesville, Oct. 15, will be brought to the fair grounds after being tested by Oct. 11. This will assure plenty of time for sale preparations on the stock.

The complete sale list shows that there will be 75 head of grades and the following purebreds sold at auction: eight heifers under a year, seven yearlings, including five bred animals; eight heifers two and under three, eight five and under seven; six cows between seven and nine, six between nine and ten and four cows with high B. F. records over 10 years of age. Of the lot 28 will be close springers and 12 fresh cows. In addition there will be 125 head of purebred cattle from dairy with A. B. records and others with good breeding.

CABBAGE, POTATO CONDITIONS BETTER

Madison—Both cabbage and potato growers in Wisconsin are doing better during the present season than prevailed in 1922, the state department of market, advises in its bi-weekly news letter.

Potato shipments, which have commenced, will fall considerably short of the 21,600 cars sent to market in Wisconsin during 1922. But despite this fact, the department says that the financial return is likely to be much larger. Prices are considerably higher than a year ago, with U. S. No. 1 Wisconsin round whites selling for $2.75-$2.25 per 100 pounds.

Cabbage producers are finding that they receive over twice as much for their product on present markets than they did last year. Domestic stock at present is bringing the growers about $3 a ton, while dealers are paying $12 for the Danish stock.

"Growers at present feel fairly well satisfied with market conditions and prices being paid," the department concludes.

PROTECT AGAINST ADULTERATED MEAL

Madison—A new method for testing flour for adulteration against adulterated oil meal has been perfected by W. H. Strowd and B. W. Gresh of the State Department of Agriculture. The new test, which is the first of its kind, has been accepted of the new test as a basis for instituting suits against companies which fail to bring their meal up to the standard required by statute. According to Strowd the meal sold by two of the seven companies in the state was below standard but with the coming of the new adulteration test these two companies have ceased to adulterate their product.

JACK WALTON HAS 'EM ALL HUMMING

Meteoric Rise of the High-Jack Governor of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Jack Walton has Oklahoma eating out of his hand. He has triumphed over all the enemies who fought him in the election. He's telling Oklahomans when to go to bed and when to get up in the morning. Walton's name is on every lip. But Oklahoma City isn't speaking his name with praise.

Not so very long ago, when Walton came to Oklahoma City from Kansas City, where he used to "double" in politics out in "habbit" territory and sold motor car accessories for a meager living, he came empty-handed. There was a new country for him, new friends and certainly opportunity. Walton was elected to one of the commissionships in Oklahoma City and later was elected mayor. Then he became governor—and what a governor he has been.

Adversity in a Battle. Hardly a day has passed that he hasn't been a storm center. He seems to love the smoke of battle. He grows over political friends and allies himself with men who have been his enemies. Few governors have been criticized so severely in the same short time in office.

Walton is the type that is full of dramatic brooding. He is a man who loves to be in the center of the storm. He is constantly declaring he is "for the man underneath the capitalistic oppression." However, he has turned his back upon the organization which swept him into office—the Farmer-Labor Reorganization League. He told an "about face" when he elected the league members from the state agricultural board, which meant the ouster of George Wilson as head of the A. and M. college at Stillwater.

When Walton showed away from the Farmer-Labor Reorganization League, even his friends admitted he would have to fight hard to regain the popular governor he was acclaimed at the late barbecue celebration which attended his inauguration. But Walton has his own idea of keeping the spotlight turned on himself. He turned to redneck in his direction and many say he is watching his shadow lengthen toward a seat in the United States senate.

It cannot be denied that Walton's attitude toward the political situation in Oklahoma has made him the chief attraction in the national circus. Oklahoma today is the battle ground in the national fight on the Ku Klux Klan. Walton's name is on every lip. But Oklahoma City isn't speaking his name with praise. It would be an injustice to the people of Oklahoma to its great wealth and its educational system to permit the governor's assertion that "riot and rebellion" exists in the entire state to go unopposed. Persons living in the east who have relatives in Oklahoma have written, urging them to leave the state before they are court-martialed or whipped by the Klan.

People May Not Stand Idle. Oklahoma is in a peaceful condition. The people go about their business as usual, many of them earning little about the political squabbles, the forces fighting the Klan. True, there have been killings, more than two hundred of them in Tulsa county alone according to the military commission, transmittal to the Klan.

Persons in the capital who refuse to get excited about anything Walton does, question whether his action against the Klan will wipe out the organization. They argue that Oklahomans will not tolerate long annals of their rights, especially the right of justice. They will rise up and eventually lambast any man, even if he is a governor, who attempts to keep the members of the Klan in power.

Suppose Governor Hyde placed guards before the doors of the state senate and house chamber in the capital, Janesville City. Suppose they had their rifles loaded and bayonets fixed. Suppose he placed a machine gun on top of the city market with its muzzle trained on the state capitol building. What would happen? Governor Davis of Kansas placed a machine gun on top of the drug store at Seventh street and Minnesota avenue with its deadly mouth aimed at the Wyandotte county jail. Then you have the picture of Oklahoma City under martial law, brought home to the Kansas Cities.

SAYS ITALY SHOT LEAGUE

Sacramento, Cal.—United States Senator Hiram Johnson of California, speaking on the League of Nations, declared "when Mussolini bombarded Corfu he shot up the moribund League of Nations."

High School Lunches—Children who eat their lunch at noon at the high school are offered now one hot dish each noon. This plan was established a number of years ago and has been found satisfactory. The child takes sandwiches and fruit, which with the hot soup, beans, potatoes, corn, peas, or whatever is offered, makes an excellent and sustaining meal, as well as benefiting the child because of having something hot to eat. Only a few pennies are charged for each helping.

"After two years of the worst sort of stomach trouble, the Fordson treatment has brought me complete relief and I feel like a new man," was the concise statement made recently by Charlie Bassler, 388 1/2 Sherman St., Albany, N. Y., employee of the New York Central Railroad.

"Stomach trouble forced me to keep a young drug store in my home for two years, but my condition got worse instead of better. The very thought of food nauseated me, and even water would upset my stomach. Sharp pains in the chest and back, plus constipation, never made me walk the floor many a night.

"My first real relief came when I began taking Tanlac, and a few weeks of the treatment has put me back on my feet where I eat with relish and suffer no distress. Now my nerves are steady as a rock and I sleep fine. Tanlac is my main stay."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 27 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

SCIENTIST URGES SOAP FOR LEPROSY

Cleanliness Best Remedy for Ancient Scourge, Says Dermatologist.

Chicago—Soap is the greatest enemy of leprosy and if economic conditions could be changed so that everyone could afford to be clean, and education create in them the desire and knowledge of hygiene, leprosy would soon cease to be a great scourge and become one of the rare diseases, Dr. Arthur W. Stillman, professor of dermatology at Northwestern University, announced in an article just published.

"The author arrives at the conclusion that to eradicate leprosy in this country the first object of the attack must be on the popular fear of the disease. It seems the greatest difficulty in the isolation of leprosy in the United States is finding them, their fear of being branded as leprosy being so great that those who suspect the nature of their disease will hide, at any sacrifice, rather than come into the open," says Dr. Stillman.

"As for the victims of the disease, systematic therapy is of benefit, it has been found. Kindness and encouragement put hope into their hearts and their condition improves as a consequence. Leprosy in its early stages is not recognizable in part of entry examinations of immigrants, the problem of its control is a problem for the whole world," he concludes by saying: "Could the nations cease warring wealth and energy in wars against one another and present a united front against the common enemy of the human race, leprosy would certainly be conquered."

5th-6th Graders Will Have Band

Band instruction will be given to fifth and sixth grade pupils (free, it has been decided, and classes will start probably next Wednesday. Ralph Jack, leader of the high school organization, will take charge of this instruction and it is hoped to make a big thing of it.

Interest of parents is high, for 50 percent of the sixth graders night and week to the high school, where the proposition was presented. Others who are interested are asked to call by telephone, either Mr. P. O. Holt or Mr. Jack, the latter at No. 424, and the matter will be explained.

While instruments last fall were purchased through one company, in order to get a special rebate and free instruction for several weeks, those entering the band now can purchase instruments wherever they like, and it is said that since the band organization here, fancyville music stores have stocked up with instruments.

3-Inch Rain Is Harbinger of Fall's Arrival

Three inches of rain fell in 22 hours in Janesville from midnight Wednesday until 10 p. m. Thursday. It was the heaviest continuous downpour here in recent years. There have been terrible showers of short duration that have had proportionately more rain, but the storm here steady hard rain with but slight interruption.

The storm was unusual for this section of the country. It was accompanied by thunder and lightning for but two hours.

It was more than likely an equinoctial outburst. Fall starts Sunday at 8 p. m. At that time, the sun will cross the equator in its journey southward. Winter will arrive at 2:46 p. m. Dec. 22.

Cooler weather followed the storm, but the mercury started upward Friday afternoon with perfect atmosphere. The temperature at 3 p. m. was 65, at noon it was 60 and at 8 a. m. 54.

Reckon these losses: Add the cost of the mileage-cutting, over-rich mixture necessitated by the coarseness and heavy-ends of poor fuel. Add the direct expense for over-frequent cleaning of the excessive carbon that has pitted your valves and stolen your power. And estimate—if you can—the damages for wear on cylinder walls and rings—on crank shaft and connecting rod bearings—on gears and shafts—because of lubricating oil robbed of its richness by drippings of rank kerosene from the "cheap" fuel.

—comes to you at an honest price for its honest value. Its first cost is its only cost. It repays you to the last penny in greater mileage, in eager power and quicker starting, in protection from excessive carbon deposits and kerosene-saturated lubricating oil.

Whitewater.—The American Legion meeting Thursday night, it was decided to hold the roundup next Thursday and to offer the same program as planned for Sept. 20. The aviators, Len Clark and Dick Cruikshank, will be here and do their stunts. Another attraction of the roundup is a jumping cavalry horse, with a record of 5 1/2 feet.

Sufficient rain fell to give the Legion the $4,000 insurance. A three-cent religious play called "The Good Samaritan" will be presented at the Methodist church at 8 p. m. Sunday. Mrs. R. H. Dixon, the director, has chosen her cast from the Methodist congregation. The play is said to be one of the finest productions attempted by the dramatic organization. No admission will be charged but an offering will be taken.

The city school board is preparing for the contest at Edgerton Thursday, Sept. 27. The stores owned by Tripp and Worm, which have recently been vacated by E. W. Vette, some issues of the Whitewater Record for 1912 and 1913, were found while tearing out an inner wall. The paper found temporary quarters there during the interval between the fire and the new building and before the plant was moved over the postoffice. The posters discovered recall comedians of the local note than P. T. Barnum, Bing Robbin and Dan McGreevy. A home talent play lists a cast of which only two are now resident here: J. J. Downey and John H. Eyer.

INTELLIGENCE TEST REMOVES ALIBI FOR STUDENT OF TODAY

Whitewater.—According to reports from Whitewater normal, the student of today in teachers' colleges and universities doesn't have the alibi for poor work that he used to have. The modern intelligence test is the pedagogical thermometer that assists the teacher in diagnosing his case. Whitewater normal is a pioneer in the use of intelligence tests in an administrative way. For three years Prof. B. E. James of the psychology department has been giving each student from two to three intelligence tests. Each year these results have been carefully averaged and tabulated and the data furnished to the president.

At Whitewater it is a rule that each teacher send in regularly the names of students who are doing falling or unsatisfactory work. President Hoy has been in the habit of calling into his office all such students, so reported for individual conferences. At each one of these conferences, President Hoy has the intelligence quotient of the student being interviewed and the consideration, sympathy and wisdom is displayed. If the student is reported as doing poor work and has a low mental ability test the cause of the poor work is easily understood. On the other hand, if his mental ability test is high and he is doing poor work, in one or more courses, the diagnosis is that he is either carrying too much work, doing too much outside work, dissipating his time, or not studying systematically.

Dresden.—Art dealers and antiquarians here have few valuable objects of art left in their shops. Since the mark began its downward course and the distrust of money became so acute Germans have been putting all their savings into articles which they believe to have a stable value in a world market. Old masterpieces, old furniture, old silver, old tapestries and old rugs have been eagerly snapped up. In many cases the dealers themselves, withdrew the articles from the market.

START WORK ON BUDGET FOR 1934

Important Task Facing Manager and Council During Coming Month.

Preparation of the 1934 budget is the big and important task now facing City Manager Henry Treadwell and the city council, with preliminary work already started to have the document in shape for passage in October.

City Clerk E. J. Sartell, acting city treasurer, has given notice to each department to file on or before Oct. 1, a statement of expenditures for the fiscal year ending October 1, 1933 and an estimate of the amount of money needed in 1934. These estimates will be carefully gone over with the department heads and boards, with efforts being made to trim the figures where possible and boosting those that may appear too low.

Making the budget is probably the most important piece of legislation enacted by the council each year, as upon it depends in a large degree what the taxes will be.

The budget for 1933 was $682,811, the largest in history compared to $606,542 in 1932. Whether the 1934 budget will be greater or less no one will know until the council meets in final vote on it at a meeting next month.

In the 1933 schedule, $283,415 was allotted to the board of education, while in 1932 the board's fund was $196,175. The industrial school amount was $14,410 this year, or an increase of about $100 over the preceding year. The library was given $2,000 in 1932 and $3,500 in 1933. In 1932 the general fund was $363,004, while this year it was only $291,186, with an additional $33,000 appropriated for high school equipment.

May Form Local Chapter of Civil War Daughters

Organization of a Janesville chapter of the Daughters of the Civil War of the Republic will be attempted by Miss Julia Lavin, local state organizer, who is in Janesville and has held a meeting of those interested at the Grand hotel Oct. 2.

E. E. Helms, local state organizer, assistant, general for the department of Wisconsin of the G. A. R., will be present. Past Commander James P. Caffie, Janesville, has offered to assist.

Membership in the order which now has seven chapters in Wisconsin at Stoughton, Madison, Racine, Milwaukee, Antigo, Elgin and Kenosha, is open to lineal female descendants of men who served in the Civil War and marines of the United States army in service during 1861-1865.

The purpose of the organization is to perpetuate the memory of the men who served the Union, to give to the destitute G. A. R. men, to stimulate patriotism and loyalty among the members of the order, and to teach the rising generation a broader patriotism, a knowledge of the principles for which they fought.

New Books on Library Shelves Prove Popular

New features of interest and new books of varying types are added weekly at the Janesville Public Library and some new departure meets one's eye with almost every visit. Now a large radio map, showing location of the various stations, has been fastened to a large bulletin board facing the main desk. New books added are told of in the book covers, fastened to another bulletin board on the desk.

New reference books are especially good and many who are perplexed with various problems will find answers in some of the following books:

"Business Law," Parsons; "Education," Emory Post; "Women of 1933," and 800 Theme Assignments. The etiquette book is the most widely read of its kind, and covers every situation in social etiquette that could possibly arise. "Women of 1933" contains a directory of the officers of all women's clubs in the country. In addition, Mrs. Lydia Cates, librarian, has secured the collateral reading list of the University Extension Division, so that any talking extension courses in English may select an assignment at the institution without bringing in their own list alone.

Some of the new titles added within the week are the following: "Business Geography," (commercial); "Huntington," "Judging Human Character," "Rollingworth," "Girth Control," "Flunk," "The Little Girl," "The Little Girl," "Creative Solving," "Mackintosh," "The Vikings," "Joan Bolger," "Outwitting Our Nerves," Jackson; "Child Rearing," and "Talks to Mothers" by Angelo Lutz; "What's in a Name?" "Our Girls," Hartley; "The Lone Wolf," Greager; "Vitamines," Harrow and "The Calorics," Peters.

The most noteworthy of these books are "Girth Control" and "The Last of the Vikings." The former is one of the most pleasant means of learning how to reduce or gain and at the same time have a lot of fun, for the book abounds in many humorous paragraphs, many things that did not know before. "The Last of the Vikings" is fiction and is to the credit of the author of "The Great Hunter" and "The Treacherous Ground."

A special loan of German books has been received from the Traveling Library department at Madison. Those books are available now for those who enjoy reading in the German language and have found a scarcity of such books since the war.

Contracts awarded up to Sept. 1, amounted to $77,457,500, an increase of 8 per cent over the total for the corresponding eight months of last year.

Last month's record included: $1,750,000, or 38 per cent, for residential buildings; $1,750,000, or 34 per cent, for public works and utilities; and $404,000, or 8 per cent, for religious and memorial buildings.

Pierson Accepts Call to Pennsylvania Pastorate; Will Leave City Oct. 31

The Rev. H. G. Pierson, for the past seven years pastor of the First Baptist church, will leave the city Oct. 31 to accept his new pastorate at a Baptist church at Pittsburgh, Pa. The resignation, to take effect at that date, was accepted at a meeting of the church Thursday night, after Rev. Mr. Pierson's statement was read.

A public committee was selected to seek a new pastor, and those making up this committee are J. C. Hancock, chairman; Robert Cunningham, secretary; Miss Mary Barker, E. N. Erickson, Mrs. Lillian Eddy, J. T. Fitchett, and Rev. Mr. Pierson.

Following is the statement read by the pastor: "I have accepted the call to the pastorate at Pittsburgh, Pa. The resignation of the meeting was found to be that while the church regretted losing its pastor, the work he will have will be better than."

"I have already told you that I have been considering the call to the pastorate at Pittsburgh, Pa. for some time. I am accepting it. I wish at this time to present my resignation as your pastor, asking that it become effective Oct. 31. This will give you six weeks to seek a new pastor and I shall be very glad to assist you in every way possible."

"In returning to you the trust with which you honored me seven years ago, I want to thank you most heartily for the love you have expressed and the co-operation you have shown in my work. I have been able to do this because of the confidence you have had in my leadership and the loyalty you have exhibited in the work we have been doing for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom."

"You have shown many kindnesses to me and my family and we greatly appreciate them all. You have been most considerate and generous. In times of sickness and sorrow you have shown your Christian love in many practical ways. We regret to break the ties, but feel that the larger service calls, and in heading the call we must make some sacrifices."

"I will go to my new work with the belief that I still have your love and friendship. This will give me courage and confidence. May God bless you and give you the grace to overcome all your difficulties. May you be directed in your choice of a new leader and may he, under God, be the means of leading you to greater and greater achievements in Christ's Kingdom."

"I pray that you may always remember Jesus Christ and give Him your best."

Jews to Observe Feast of Succoth

Views the world over will observe another festival from Sept. 21 to Oct. 2, the Feast of Ingathering, or Succoth. Following so closely upon the great religious holy days of the synagogue, the harvest feast attracts less attention than its intricately morbid. The United States national Thanksgiving day is said to be directly patterned on this ancient harvest festival of Israel. Succoth is a season of gladness and decorations are of the harvest symbols, such as fruits, flowers and grains.

NEW POLICY FOR DISPOSAL OF BIG U. S. FLEET SOUGHT

Washington, Sept. 20.—Administration today again faced the task of formulating a policy for disposal of the government's merchant fleet as a substitute for that contemplated in the Lusk-Pailey plan, which Attorney General Daugherty has declared illegal.

In an opinion submitted to President Coolidge yesterday, the attorney general held that the Lusk-Pailey plan for transferring the fleet to corporations organized under state law would be upheld, but under provisions of the shipping act limiting disposition of the fleet to cash or credit sales.

The proposed transfer of title to ships in consideration of stock in the corporation, the opinion held is authorized neither expressly nor by an implication to be drawn from provisions of the act.

HOW MAX MEISEL SAVED THE LIFE OF JAMES ZANIAS

Had Max Meisel not stopped James Zanias at the door of the Saxe theater and talked at some length, Manager Zanias of the Apollo would probably be either dead or a mangled victim of the collapse of the theater building Tuesday.

Mr. Zanias was to have been the manager of the new Saxe theater. He recently he has spent much time inside the new building watching the completion and making suggestions.

On Tuesday he was on his way to the door of the building when Max Meisel stopped him. Max had just returned from a week spent in celebration of the Jewish New Year and was telling Mr. Zanias about that and some other things.

The manager had his hand on the door and was waiting for Max to finish. But Max talked on and just as he turned away came the crash. Zanias had the door partially opened and had started to step through. Max immediately had business in another direction and did not return.

It is never more thankful than for the fact that Max had said so much.

POLL SUIT BASED ON REGISTRATION

State Supreme Court Takes Under Advisement Case of Kenosha Official.

Madison.—The Wisconsin supreme court was called upon today to decide whether an elector who fails to assure himself that his name is in the list of registered voters can cast a ballot at the general election.

Upon this question the outcome of the action commenced by Frank S. Symmonds, former district attorney of Kenosha county to oust Morris Barnett, his opponent at the election, from the office of district attorney. Judge E. B. Belden, in Kenosha county circuit court, held that Barnett had failed of election because 578 electors were not on the registry list before they voted.

From this decision the appeal was taken.

Arguments before the supreme court today brought the claim from Symmonds that 118 votes in the sixth ward of Kenosha are 450 votes in the eighth ward.

It is further claimed that on Oct. 3, 1922, Palmer, at a meeting of chiropractors at Munich, Ind., slandered Sauchelli "in the most malicious fashion," and had such utterances against the plaintiff published throughout the country.

POLL SUIT BASED ON REGISTRATION

State Supreme Court Takes Under Advisement Case of Kenosha Official.

Madison.—The Wisconsin supreme court was called upon today to decide whether an elector who fails to assure himself that his name is in the list of registered voters can cast a ballot at the general election.

Upon this question the outcome of the action commenced by Frank S. Symmonds, former district attorney of Kenosha county to oust Morris Barnett, his opponent at the election, from the office of district attorney. Judge E. B. Belden, in Kenosha county circuit court, held that Barnett had failed of election because 578 electors were not on the registry list before they voted.

From this decision the appeal was taken.

Arguments before the supreme court today brought the claim from Symmonds that 118 votes in the sixth ward of Kenosha are 450 votes in the eighth ward.

It is further claimed that on Oct. 3, 1922, Palmer, at a meeting of chiropractors at Munich, Ind., slandered Sauchelli "in the most malicious fashion," and had such utterances against the plaintiff published throughout the country.

Three Veterans Who Served in South's Prisons Meet Again

LEFT TO RIGHT: H. E. MOWRY, ELJAH CARTER, GEO. HAWKS.

Friendship, formed during the trying days of the Civil war when they were thrown together into the terrible prisons of the Confederates, and kept through commutation in the three score years that have followed was cemented when Eljah Carter, Janesville, Wis., saw his two comrades for the first time since the war. The meeting was during the G. A. R. convention in Milwaukee.

This picture was taken in a Milwaukee hotel and shows Mr. Carter as the central figure in the group. On his left is H. E. Mowry, 79, Greenfield, Mass., and on the right is George Hawks, 81, Fargo, N. D. Mr. Carter is the "daddy" of the trio, being 55 years young.

The three saw little of the G. A. R. convention, but sat together telling reminiscences of the war, memories of which have kindled in their thoughts by the meeting.

Mr. Carter recalled how he escaped from the "Ditch" through a cave. Only sick and wounded men were traced and this apparently barred Mr. Carter who was strong in body but through the help of a comrade he planned to escape. He played sick and got away, and then recruited and served throughout the duration of the war.

Mr. Carter is one of the few surviving veterans of the Civil war remaining in Janesville. He fought in 18 engagements, mostly in North Carolina. He first came to Janesville in 1876 and although away several times, always returns. He resides at 419 Cherry street.

COLORED LEADER AT WHITE HOUSE

Support of Southern Delegates for Coolidge Seen by Observers.

By DAVID L. WHELAN
Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.

Washington.—Henry Lincoln Johnson, of Georgia, probably the most influential of the colored political leaders of the country, had a private talk with President Coolidge in the White House today. Johnson is the member of the republican national committee from Georgia who caused a stir at the 120 national republican convention at Chicago when his delegates nominated him from the floor to the surprise of the other republicans who claimed that he had not been elected.

It had been agreed to make a fight for a place on the republican national committee. Since that time he was nominated by Mr. Harding to be Recorder of Deeds in the District of Columbia, but the United States senate declined to confirm the nomination.

Asked what the purpose of his visit to the White House was, Johnson said on leaving the executive offices: "I was feeling badly, and I came to pay my respects to President Coolidge. You know I was educated almost entirely by New England Yankees, friends and neighbors of Mr. Coolidge, so that I feel that through his friends he has been my schoolmaster."

Johnson is a tall figure with an oratorical turn of phrase and an emphatic style of expression.

His life job, "Are you still republican national committeeman from Georgia," he was asked by one of the newspapermen who had not been following the affairs of colored voters in the south very closely.

"Yes," snapped Johnson. "I am and always will be."

Probably the visit of Johnson means the support to President Coolidge of certain colored delegates from the southern states to the republican national convention of 1924. There always is a scramble to swing these delegates in line and there have been frequent contests as to the eligibility of the delegates usually on the ground that improper influences were brought to bear to secure their support.

"Coolidge Will Win."

The president is, of course, anxious for the presidential nomination and so far as official Washington is concerned there is little doubt that he has the inside track. Only today Postmaster General New added his prediction to that of other members of the cabinet to the effect that Mr. Coolidge will win. When the republican leaders told President Coolidge that he should appoint C. Dascom Slemm as his private secretary they paid high tribute to the latter's political ability. Mr. Slemm, however, has not been in good favor with the colored political leaders so that President Coolidge has had to act more or less as a mediator to secure the support of the colored people.

Mr. Coolidge on Tuesday in receiving a delegation of colored women had an opportunity to explain how warm his sympathies for the colored race. His visitors came with a pe-

Too Many Johnsons; Swedish Colleges Would Change Plan

Rockford.—A movement to reform Swedish-American family names has been started by the five Swedish-American colleges, Anshutana, Gustaf Adolphus, Bethany, Upsala and North Park colleges, following the example set by the Swedish government several years ago.

Difficulties arising from the large number of Johnsons, Andersons, Petersons, Olsons, Svensons and other prominent Swedish names in various Swedish-American communities has caused the five colleges to start a campaign to change the names.

The younger generation of Johnsons, Petersons, Andersons, etc., will be encouraged to change their names to reduce the number of common Swedish names.

In Sweden the custom is for the son to take the first name of the father and add "son" to it. For instance, if the father's name is John, the son assumes the name of Johnson. Arthur L. Johnson has received a communication asking his co-operation in the reform movement.

"Personally, I have worked to build up the name of Arthur L. Johnson and would hate to change to something else if I return to the business field," said Mr. Johnson, "but as postmaster I can see the need for some kind of a change. We should number the Johnsons in Rockford and similar numbers for other Johnsons, Petersons, and so forth."

Dr. G. A. Brandt, president of Augustana Synod, saw difficulties ahead of the plan and changed his name from Johnson to Brandt. The change will not appeal to the older generation but the younger generation may see the advisability of it," said Mr. Johnson.

Meeting Colored Delegates. What President Coolidge said in reply was not given out for publication, but those who heard remarks described it as "a beautiful little speech." Mr. Coolidge had another engagement today with a colored delegation, this being the Order of Moses which claims a membership of 250,000 people.

Besides the colored visitors there were others who talked politics with President Coolidge, namely, Charles W. Montgomery, republican state committeeman from Ohio, and James B. Reynolds, former secretary of the republican national committee. They came separately. The only democrats on the calling list was Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who came to introduce some friends who wanted to meet Mr. Coolidge. He was received immediately after Henry Lincoln Johnson left.

Fast Repairing by Phone Crew

When the Sax theater crumbled Tuesday afternoon, 100 telephone subscribers were deprived of service by the breaking of cables. Within an hour, the Wisconsin Telephone company had all but 19 of them in working order again by splicing on to other "ends."

When the extent of the disaster was seen, the local company rushed an emergency truck to Beloit and brought back material that had been delivered there for new installation. With the aid of electric lights, crews worked until midnight Tuesday and resumed on Wednesday at 7 a. m., continuing to 3 p. m.

All service was in working order again at 3 o'clock Wednesday.

GALESVILLE PEA GROWERS ORGANIZE

Galesville.—The Galesville Pea Growers' association has been organized here as the first co-operative enterprise in Wisconsin built up in the pea growing industry. A large group of farmers has already entered the new organization. Under contracts signed by members they agree to pool their crop for a three year period, the product to be sold under the pooling arrangement.

MEN'S SHOPS IN GAY FALL ATTIRE

No Startling Changes in Styles—Extreme Models Are Passe.

With the coming of fall, Janesville clothiers are offering the seasons latest modes and displaying the newest fashions in men's clothing.

Practically all of the local shops have arranged special window displays of the fashions which will predominate during the fall and winter.

A survey of shop windows discloses no startling changes in the styles of 1923, although the once popular jazz models seem to be even more extinct than last year. Of the local merchants are offering the extreme styles that were once heavy sellers.

The three-buttoned and four-buttoned suits seem to be the most popular models on display. The backs in some cases are without vents, although most of the suits contain the "hook" style of buttoning. Cases are finished with flaps, while the lapels are slightly peaked. The trousers are natural fitting, the tendency for bells having practically disappeared. The standard cuffs are also in mode.

Norfolk Will Be Worn. The two button double breasted sack suit is another model, which clothiers predict will be especially popular throughout the season along with the three buttoned double breasted. Materials in favor are cheviot, worsted, tweed, striped worsted and homespun. The colors are slightly more conservative than those of the past season with grays, dark browns, blues and mixtures the favorites. Norfolk and belted models, popular with the younger generation, will also be worn throughout the year, although to a lesser degree than in 1922.

Fall coats are of brighter hues and with more dashing cuts. The belted models for youths and young men in brilliant browns, greens and mixtures, will undoubtedly be worn. The plain regulation length will be favored by the older buyers. Tweeds and polo are the two leading materials. Big coats of rabbit, linen and white cords are also expected.

Headgear Changes. Felt hats, local dealers say, will be worn much more this season than ever before. The style tendency is for turned edges. Cloth hats for knockabout wear are also on the market. They are made of rough brush, fabrics and intended for sport wear. Beaver finished hats are also correct. The modes are made with just the right proportion of crown and brim to become the majority of young men and are appropriately trimmed. Caps will be light in color and fuzzy in material, although smooth checks and other types will be worn.

Slight changes in shirt styles are noticeable, although the collar attached type seems to be in prominence. Ties are brilliant in color, with the knitted type almost passe. The collars will be practically the same as in the past, with a few new types on display.

WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

ORDERING SODATOL FOR FARMERS HERE

War Explosive Can Be Obtained Through County Agents Exchange List.

Southern Wisconsin farmers will have opportunity to obtain and learn how to use the new salvaged explosive, Sodamol, recently made available to Wisconsin. In Watworth County, La. J. Merriam has made arrangements with W. A. Rowlands of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture to hold 12 demonstrations the first four days in October.

For Rock county the Farm Bureau has sent out blanks to farmers to determine their wants of sodamol and for listing livestock and farm products. Sufficient orders are expected in the counties to make up one or more carload shipments to be used for clearing work. The cost is announced at $2.95 a hundred without taxes or cartage.

The new explosive is a combination of two surplus war materials and is put up in the form of cartridges similar to ordinary dynamite. There are about 240 cartridges to a hundred pounds and to facilitate handling it is packed in 50 pound cases. Slick rock and granite are expected to be equal in strength to 40 percent dynamite and the explosive does not freeze and does not color the hands. Orders are being taken in both counties by county agents.

Special effort is being made by the Farm Bureau of Jackson county to put out a valuable order in great sales of grains, seeds, stock and machinery. "There are calls daily on livestock and a list of both grade and purebred cattle will bring results," it was stated.

"Outside buyers are coming in strong for dairy cattle and there must be an effort to locate the stock they want."

TO ASSEMBLE CATTLE FOR GUERNSEY SALE HERE BY OCT. 11TH

All cattle for the Southern Wisconsin Guernsey sale to be held in the Rock county pavilion, Janesville, Oct. 16, will be brought to the fair grounds after being selected by Oct. 11. This will assure plenty of time for sale preparations on the stock.

The complete sale list shows that there will be 75 head of grade and purebred Guernsey cattle, 25 head of Guernsey yearlings, including five bred animals; eight heifers two and under three; eight five and under six; six cows between seven and nine; six between nine and ten and four cows with high A. R. records over 10 years of age. Of the 125 head to be sold, 25 are springers and 13 fresh cows. In addition, there will be between 12 and 15 good bulls from dams with A. R. records and others with good breeding.

CABBAGE, POTATO CONDITIONS BETTER

Madison—Both cabbage and potato growers in Wisconsin are finding market conditions much better than during the present season than prevailed in 1922, the state department of markets advises in its bi-weekly news letter.

Potato shipments, which have commenced, will fall considerably short of the 21,500 cars sent to market by Wisconsin growers during 1922, but despite this fact the department says that the financial return is likely to be much larger. Prices are considerably higher than a year ago, with U. S. No. 1 Wisconsin round whites selling for $2.10-$2.25 per 100 pounds.

Cabbage producers are finding that they receive over twice as much for their product on present markets than they did last year. Domestic stock at present is bringing the growers about $8 a ton, while dealers are paying $12 for the Danish stock.

"Growers at present feel fairly well satisfied with market conditions and prices being paid," the department concludes.

PROTECT AGAINST ADULTERATED MEAL

Madison—A new method for protecting farmers in the state against adulterated meal has been suggested by W. H. Strowd and E. W. Gies of the State Department of Agriculture. The United States Department of Agriculture has recently issued the new test as a basis for instituting suits against companies which fail to bring their meal up to the standard required by statute. According to Strowd the meal sold by two of the seven companies in the state was below standard but with the buying of the adulterated meal test these two companies have ceased to adulterate their product.

POTATO POOL IS MINNESOTA PLAN

Sapiro Leading in State-Wide Marketing Work of Farm Bureau.

An active campaign to contract half of the commercial potato acreage in Minnesota, approximately 175,000 acres, has been started in the Red River valley with Aaron Sapiro in charge. J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau, S. G. Rubinow, manager of the Minnesota potato exchange, and other co-operative workers have aided the work of obtaining the contracts.

The party will company the potato growing district of six counties and an effort is being made to secure at least one-half of the crop under a pool contract.

Beltrami and Red Lake counties have already turned in the necessary contract quotas, while Clearwater, Winona, Becker, Carlton, Kanabec, Isanti and Pennington counties are near the acreage goal under the five year state-wide marketing plan.

The valley counties, particularly Norman, Polk, Clay, Wilkin, Marshall and Kittson, where the bulk of the Minnesota commercial potatoes are grown, are expected to contract at least 100,000 acres. The organization of the Minnesota potato growers will be the first test of the Sapiro plan of pool marketing and the system is founded on a method identical with that followed in California.

Potato growers of Maine are said to be organized under the same system and similar "spud" pools formed in Colorado and Idaho with a start in Michigan. A national potato selling organization is forecasted by the Bureau workers.

ADDS TO RAIL INCOME

Berlin—Loud appeals are made from time to time in the press for the abolition of the class distinctions on German railroads, but nothing over is done. Pride compels many persons to pay first class rates, and thus swell the badly depleted budget of the railroads.

Railroad Man Makes Frank Statement About Case.

CHAS. BASSLER

"After two years of the worst sort of stomach trouble, the Tanlac treatment has brought me complete relief and I feel like a new man."

"The concrete statement made recently by Charlie Bassler, 38½ Sherman St., Albany, N. Y., employee of the New York Central Railroad."

"Stomach trouble forced me to keep a young drug store in my home for two years, but my condition got worse instead of better. The very thought of food nauseated me, and even water would upset my stomach. Sharp pains in the chest and played-out nerves made me walk the floor many nights."

"My first real relief came when I began taking Tanlac, and a few weeks of the treatment has put me back on my feet where I eat with relish and suffer no distress. Now my nerves are steady as a rock and I sleep fine. Tanlac is my main stay."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

JACK WALTON HAS 'EM ALL JUMPING

Meteoric Rise of the High-Jack Governor of Oklahoma.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Jack Walton has Oklahoma eating out of his hand. He has triumphed over all the enemies who fought him in the election. He's telling Oklahoma when to go to bed and when to get up in the morning. Walton's name is on every lip. But Oklahoma City isn't speaking his name with praise.

Not so very long ago, when Walton came to Oklahoma City from Kansas City, where he used to "dabble" in politics out in "Rabbit" territory and did motor car accessories for a manager living, he came empty-handed. There was a new country for him, new friends and certainly opportunity. Walton was elected to one of the commissions in Oklahoma City and later was elected mayor. Then he became governor—and what a governor he has been.

Always in a little. Hardly a day has passed that he hasn't been a storm center. He seems to have the smoke of battle. He throws over political friends and allies himself with men who have been his enemies. Few governors have been criticized so severely in the same short time in office.

Walton is the type that is full of demagogic bromides. He loves to refer to newspapers as "the capitalist press." He is constant and always himself "for the man underneath capitalist oppression," however, he has turned his back upon the organization which swept him into office—the Oklahoma Labor Reconstruction League. He did an "about face" when he cleaned the League members from the state agricultural board, which meant the ouster of Wilson as head of the A. and M. college at Stillwater.

Quit His Election Support

When Walton shoved away from the Farmer-Labor Reconstruction League, even his friends admitted he would have to fight hard to remain the popular governor he was acclaimed at the big barbecue celebration which attended his inauguration. But Walton has his own ideas of keeping the spotlight turned on himself. He turned the reflector in his direction and many say he is watching his shadow lengthen toward a seat in the United States senate.

It cannot be denied that Walton's attack on the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma has made him the chief attraction in the national press. Oklahoma today is the battle ground in the national fight on the Ku Klux Klan. Eastern newspapers are calling for "copy" about Jack Walton and his battle against the Klan.

It would be an injustice to the people of Oklahoma, to its great wealth and its educational system to permit the governor's assistant, that "riot and rebellion" exists in the entire state to go undisputed if not unqualified. Persons living in the east who have reactive in Oklahoma have not been so excited about anything Walton does, question whether his action against the Klan will wipe out the organization. They make the long annals of their rights, especially the right to habeas corpus. They will rise up and eventually smash any man, even if he is a governor, who attempts to keep the members of the legislature from entering the capitol.

Suppose Governor Hyde placed guards before the doors of the state senate and house chamber in the capitol at Jefferson City? Suppose they had their rifles loaded and bayonets fixed. Suppose he placed a machine gun on top of the city hall with its muzzle trained on the city hall. Just imagine what would happen if Governor Davis of Kansas placed a machine gun on top of the state capitol at Topeka? Suppose he placed a machine gun on top of the city hall with its muzzle trained on the city hall.

Fordson Often Does More In a Day Than Six Horses

The Fordson substitutes motors for muscles. The Fordson substitutes tractor wheels for the legs of man and horse. The Fordson takes the burden off flesh and blood and puts it on steel. It allows the farmer's energy to be devoted to management, and not merely to operation. It gives him time. It cuts his producing costs.

Let me demonstrate the Fordson to you. Sold on the easy payment plan if desired.

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 45 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (col. oil).

The inventor, F. D. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 16 days' "FREE" trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

New Sedan

Changes featured in the new Ford Sedan make it a better looking, roomier car.

A higher radiator with a trim apron at its base lends dignity befitting a closed car. The higher hood and enlarged cowl curving gracefully to the dash give a stylish sweep to its body lines, and afford additional leg room for occupants of the front seat.

All body fittings—window regulators, door grips, door latch levers, door lock, dome light—are finished in nickel. The upholstery carries a fine dark line on a soft brown background that does not easily show dust or dirt. Silk window curtains to harmonize for the three rear windows enhance the style of the car and add to the comfort of its passengers.

SCIENTIST URGES SOAP FOR LEPROSY

Cleanliness Best Remedy for Ancient Scourge, Says Dermatologist.

Chicago.—Soap is the greatest enemy of leprosy and it is economic conditions could be changed so that everyone could afford to be clean, and education create in them the desire and knowledge of hygiene, leprosy would soon cease to be a great scourge and become one of the rare diseases, Dr. Arthur W. Stillman, professor of dermatology at Northwestern University, announced in an article just published.

The author arrives at the conclusion that to eradicate leprosy in this country the first object of the attack must be on the popular fear of the disease. "It seems the greatest difficulty in the isolation of leprosy in the United States is finding them, their fear of being branded as leprosy to great that those who suspect the nature of their disease will hide it at any sacrifice, rather than come into the open," says Dr. Stillman.

"As the victims of the malady, occupational therapy, is of benefit, it has been found, kindness and encouragement, put hope into the hearts and their condition improves as a consequence. Because leprosy in its early stages is not recognizable in port of entry examinations of immigrants, the problem of the control of leprosy for the whole world," Dr. Stillman concludes by saying: "Could the nations cease warring wealth and energy in wars against one another and present a united front against the common enemies of the human race, leprosy would certainly be conquered."

5th-6th Graders Will Have Band

Band instruction will be given to fifth and sixth grade pupils free, it has been decided, and classes will start probably next Wednesday. Ralph Jark, leader of the high school organization, will take charge of the instruction and it is hoped to make a big thing of it.

Interest of parents is high, for 60 braved the storm of Thursday night and went to the high school, where the proposition was presented. Others who are interested are asked to call by telephone, either Supt. J. O. Holt or Mr. Jack, the latter at No. 424, and the matter will be explained.

While instruments last, fall were purchased through one company, in order to get a special rebate and free instruction for several weeks, those entering the band now can purchase instruments wherever they like, and it is said that since the band's organization here, Janesville music stores have stocked up with instruments.

NURSE DIED FROM SHOCK

Rockford.—Renewed endeavor to find the "mysterious motorist" who fled from St. Anthony hospital Tuesday night, after placing the body of Svea Olson, student nurse, in a wheel chair in the hospital corridor, ceased today following the report by county physician C. H. Boswell, which indicated the young woman died of shock. "Her death apparently was due to a weak heart," which stopped whenever she was subjected to shock of some kind," he said. "There was no evidence of poison and no signs of bruises or wounds."

3-Inch Rain Is Harbinger of Fall's Arrival

Three inches of rain fell in 22 hours in Janesville from midnight Wednesday until 10 p. m., Thursday. It was the heaviest continuous downpour here in recent years. There have been terrific showers of short duration that have had proportionately more, but the storm kept a steady hard rain with, but slight interruption.

The storm was unusual for this section of the country. It was accompanied by thunder and lightning for but two hours.

It was more than likely an early onset of autumn. Fall starts Sunday at 8:04 p. m. At that time, the sun will cross the equator in its journey southward. Winter will arrive at 2:15 p. m., Dec. 22.

Cooler weather followed the storm, but the mercury started upward Friday afternoon with perfect atmosphere. The temperature at 3 p. m. was 65; at noon it was 60 and at 8 a. m., 53.

BLAINE SCORED BY ROCK CO. W. C. T. U.

Appointment of Wet Leader As Dry Commissioner Draws Fire.

At the convention of the Rock county W. C. T. U. at Beloit Friday, a resolution was adopted whereby the union goes on record as opposing the appointment by Governor Blaine of Herman Sachdev as prohibition commissioner.

Mrs. O. D. Bates, Janesville, is chairman of the committee signing the resolution, which reads as follows:

"Resolved, That the Rock county W. C. T. U. in convention, in the city of Beloit, this 21st day of September, 1923, do hereby go on record as opposing the appointment by Governor Blaine of Herman Sachdev as prohibition commissioner to enforce a code of laws with which he is not in sympathy, and which has had his open opposition in the legislature of our state.

"Therefore, We recommend that this resolution be adopted and a copy of same sent to the local and county papers for publication."

HOW TO USE MORE CHEESE BY MAKING THESE CHEESE DISHES

"Badger housewives should use more cheese in planning their meals, for the average family eats altogether too little of this wholesome food," declared Miss Hule, director of the home economics extension of the University of Wisconsin.

Three-fourths of the nation's cheese is made in Wisconsin but not much of it is sold in state. Miss Hule pointed out, because people do not realize that it is an inexpensive wholesome food that may be used not only as a relish but also as a part of a meal.

"Found for pound, cheese is considerably richer in protein and fat than meat and hence makes a valuable meat saver. It is usually easily and well digested. It has the undesired reputation of being hard to digest but this may be due to the custom of serving cheese with pie at the end of a hearty meal," she explained.

"Housewives should remember that when cheese is used raw it should be served with hard foods like crackers or dry toast. Cheese should not be swallowed without thoroughly chewing. When cheese is cooked it should be heated just long enough to melt it. High temperatures make it stringy and tough," Miss Hule declared.

The following cheese recipes are becoming very popular with Wisconsin housewives:

Cheese Spread.
1 lb. cheese (grated or ground) 1/2 cup flour, 2 cups milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 teaspoons salt. Place the milk in a bowl. Beat the butter and salt, flour, and butter, which have been mixed together, and stir until well cooked. Add cheese and beat until smooth. The addition of a little paprika, finely cut pimento, green pepper, or a little onion juice will vary the flavor. This makes splendid sandwiches, or is good served on toast.

Cheese and Bean Salad.
1 can peas, 1 cup cheese cut in small cubes. Mix the peas and cheese. Add enough hot milk dressing mixed with whipped cream and well flavored, to moisten well.

Cheese Fondue.
Cut the crusts from several slices of bread. Place a layer of slices in a baking dish, sprinkle thickly with ground cheese, and continue until the dish is filled. The top layer should be used take 1 egg and 1/2 cup of milk. Beat the eggs slightly and add the milk. Salt and pepper to taste. Pour mixture over the bread. Bake in oven in a slow oven and bake from 20 to 30 minutes. Serve with jelly or a tart fruit.

Italian Sauce.
1 cup rice, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 cups tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt, 1/2 cup ground cheese, 4 tablespoons chopped green peppers. Wash rice and cook in boiling water until soft. Drain. Melt butter in sauce pan, add green peppers and cook five minutes. Combine this with the rice, tomato and sauce. Cook until tomatoes are tender. Add water if the mixture gets too thick. Stir in the cheese and continue cooking, only long enough to melt the cheese. Serve at once.

CONSTRUCTION OF THEATER RESUMED

ator must be made by the industrial commission before work proceeds and Contractor Willis is anticipating several days delay on this account. He is therefore planning to finish now as much other work in the front of the theater, as the flats above and those on Dodge street as possible. Plasterers were at work Friday plastering the walls of the stores which will adjoin the lobby of the theater. Marble and tile will be put in place.

Collapse of the theater building when it was 80 per cent completed means that several thousand dollars will be spent by the Saxs to make the building more than safe and remove any possibility of another such tragedy and to overcome the attitude of the public. Mr. Willis stated:

Will Be Inspected Carefully.
Mr. Willis said he would have an inspector on the job all the time and that the engineers would be asked to come here and inspect the theater during the process of construction. The industrial commission probably will not be asked to inspect the building until it is more than 90 per cent completed.

It is expected that steel, brick and other materials are received promptly, work of reconstruction will start in the next week, Mr. Willis said Friday. He has been given assurance that he will, as large a force of laborers as can be secured will be employed. The Saxs brothers now anticipate opening the theater about the first of January, 1924.

The auditorium is 160x130 feet. Inquest Date Not Set.

"As soon as the industrial commission engineers and technical workers have completed their report, it is to hold the coroner's inquest," said District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie. Then the only way for us to proceed is to call the witnesses all the people who were working in the building at the time of the collapse, to tell where the first break seemed to come; the industrial commission man who checked and passed on the plans before the theater was built, and those who inspected it after the collapse, to give their opinions; the architects who drew up the plans and specifications for the building; Mr. Willis and his foreman to testify as to how these plans were followed out."

Defective Materials Possible.
The inquest will be an effort to determine who slipped and where the slip came, continued Mr. Dunwiddie. "What will develop, we don't know now, but we will have to start from the very beginning and check the building all the way through. It may be found that any one of the contractor, architects or industrial commission was at fault," she explained.

blame may fall on none of them, as it may be contended and shown that it was a defective piece of steel or a defective brick. In that event it would be hard to trace it to the one responsible.

GROWS MOUSTACHE TO GET AWAY FROM GERMAN TERRITORY

Hamburg.—A lost moustache is forcing a Copenhagen man to take a prolonged vacation in Hamburg.

The Dane came to Germany wearing an enormous turned-up moustache. His friends joked him about it. People stared at him. The Kaiser Wilhelm brand of upper-lip decoration is not popular in the modern commercial city of Hamburg. It is too intentional.

In desperation the Dane had his moustache shaved off, and found his lot much pleasanter until he reached the German border on his way back home. The heavily moustached chap on his passport photograph did not in the least resemble the smooth-faced modern appearing Dane. Passport officials turned him back, and detectives gave him the third degree. In his changed appearance they found resemblance to a famous international swindler.

The Dane was too much ashamed of the incident to seek aid from Danish officials, and is now patiently waiting a new moustache which will enable him to measure up to his passport photograph.

LATEST MARKET REPORT

GRAIN

Chicago Review.—Wheat: Dull, but firm. Initial decline was attributed to the fact that the market was lower than looked for. Minneapolis prices, however, showed comparative firmness and with offering light, it took but little buying to lift values. The opening, which varied from $1.02 1/2 to $1.03 1/2, with December $1.03 1/2 and May $1.04, was followed by a slight general advance and then an advance to well above Thursday's finish.

Flattening out of buying power led to a material decline in wheat prices Friday after December delivery had risen to about $1.05 1/2. The close was $1.02 1/2 for December and $1.03 1/2 for May. The close was weak, $1.02 1/2 for December and $1.03 1/2 for May. The close was weak, $1.02 1/2 for December and $1.03 1/2 for May.

Unfavorable weather and scarcity of immediate supplies gave firmness to corn. After opening at 44c net to a like advance, December 47 1/2 c and May 48 1/2 c, the market showed an upward tendency. September delivery to particular.

October sales of new crop months brought about a reaction. The close was unsettled, at a range varying from 52c to 54c. The close was unsettled, at a range varying from 52c to 54c.

Oats sympathized with other grain, starting 44c lower, but the market hardened all around.

Provisions were firmer in response to higher quotations on hogs.

WISCONSIN TOBACCO MARKET. Milwaukee.—The Wisconsin Tobacco Market Friday says:

Never in the history of tobacco culture in Wisconsin have the growers suffered as great a loss as that occasioned by the frosts of the mornings of Sept. 23 and 24. The frost of Thursday morning did considerable damage, but the much harder freeze of Friday morning was severe enough to affect almost every field of unharvested tobacco.

Overheard on the Links. "First Golfer"—"Flubb's great fault is that he doesn't put his mind on the ball."

Second Golfer—"Oh, he does that all right, but I guess it gets lost in one of the little depressions."—Eoslor Transcript.

Where Figures Fall. A shortage of 7,000,000 homes in this country is estimated by no one yet has had courage to estimate the garage shortage. Pittsburgh Gazette.

You Never Saved a Dollar on "Cheap" Motor Fuel

A lower price per gallon at the time of filling may have temporarily fooled you into the belief that you were making a saving. But it's safe to say that every cent of fancied gain might just as well have gone into a bottomless purse.

Reckon these losses: Add the cost of the mileage-cutting, over-rich mixture necessitated by the coarseness and heavy-ends of poor fuel. Add the direct expense for over-frequent cleaning of the excessive carbon that has pitted your valves and stolen your power. And estimate—if you can—the damages for wear on cylinder walls and rings—on crank shaft and connecting rod bearings—on gears and shafts—because of lubricating oil robbed of its richness by drippings of rank kerosene from the "cheap" fuel.

Wadhams True Gasoline

—comes to you at an honest price for its honest value. Its first cost is its only cost. It repays you to the last penny in greater mileage, in eager power and quicker starting, in protection from excessive carbon deposits and kerosene-saturated lubricating oil.

WHITEWATER

MISS ALICE MARSH

Phone 235-12.

White-water. At the American Legion meeting Thursday night, it was decided to hold the roundup next Thursday and to offer the same program as planned for Sept. 21. The aviators, Len Class and Dick Crutcher, will be here and do their stunts. Another attraction of the roundup is a jumping, cavalry horse, with a record of 1/2 mile.

Sufficient rain fell to give the Legion the $1,000 insurance.

A three-act religious play called "The Rock," will be presented at the Methodist church at 8 p. m. Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. Dixon, the director, has chosen her cast from the Methodist and Congregational vocalists and it is said to be one of the finest pageants attempted by the dramatic organization. No admission will be charged but an offering will be taken.

The city high school band is preparing for the contest at Edgerton Thursday, Sept. 27.

While remodeling the stores owned by Tripp and Worm, which have recently been vacated by E. W. Vette, some issues of the White-water Register for 1875 and 1876 were found while tearing out an inner wall.

The paper found temporary quarters there during the interval between the time the stores were vacated and before the plant was moved over to the postoffice.

The posters discovered recall comedians of no less note than P. T. Barnum, Buster Brown and Gen. Morrissey.

A home talent play lists a cast of which only two are now resident here. J. J. Downey, and John M. Foy.

The east store will be occupied by the Wiener Mercantile company as soon as remodeling is finished. The second floor will contain two floors.

The 21 officers and teachers of the Congregational Sunday school were guests of Superintendent and Mrs. Paul A. Johnson, 701 Main street, at 5:30 p. m. Thursday.

The Rev. Niel E. Hanson outlined the plans for the church and Sunday school for the year 1924.

INTELLIGENCE TEST
REMOVES ALIBI FOR STUDENT OF TODAY

White-water. According to reports from White-water normal, the student of today in college and university doesn't have the alibi for poor work that he used to have.

The modern intelligence test is the pedagogical thermometer that assists the teacher in diagnosing his cause.

White-water normal is a pioneer in the use of intelligence tests in an administrative way. For three years Prof. E. B. James of the psychology department has been giving each student from two to three intelligence tests. Each year these results have been carefully averaged and tabulated and the data furnished to the president.

At White-water it is a rule that each teacher send in regularly the names of students who are doing failing or unsatisfactory work. President Haver has been in the habit of calling into his office all such students so reported for individual conferences. At each one of these conferences, President Haver has the intelligence quotient of the student being interviewed and can administer his case with all the consideration, sympathy and wisdom that he desires. If the student is reported as doing poor work and has a low mental ability test, the cause of the poor work is easily understood. On the other hand, if his mental ability tests are high, and he is doing poor work in one or more courses, the diagnosis is that he is either carrying too much work, doing too much outside work, or dissipating his time, or not studying systematically.

START WORK ON BUDGET FOR 1924

Important Task Faces Manager and Council During Coming Month.

Preparation of the 1924 budget is the big and important task now facing City Manager Henry Traxler and the city council, with preliminary work already started to have the document in shape for passage in October.

City Clerk E. J. Sartell, acting city treasurer, has given notice to each department to file on or before Oct. 3, a statement of expenditures for the fiscal year ending October 1, 1923, and an estimate of the amount of money needed in 1924. These estimates will be carefully gone over with the department heads and the council, with efforts pointed to trimming the figures where possible and boosting those that may appear too low.

Making the budget is probably the most important piece of legislation enacted by the council each year, as upon it depends in a large degree what the taxes will be.

The budget for 1923 was $533,511, the largest in history compared to $508,542 in 1922. Whether the 1924 budget will be greater or less no one will know until the council takes a final vote on it at a meeting next month.

In the 1923 schedule, $233,415 was allocated to the various departments, while in 1922 the board's fund was $198,165. The industrial school amount was $13,410 this year, or an increase of about $100 over the preceding year. The library was given $3,000 in 1922 and $5,500 in 1923. In 1922 the general fund was $233,094, while this year it was only $231,485, with an additional $2,000 allocated for high school equipment.

May Form Local Chapter of Civil War Daughters

Organization of a Janesville chapter of the Daughters of the Grand Army of the Republic will be attempted by Miss Julia Leavin, Racine, state organizer, who is in Janesville and has called a meeting of those interested at the Grand hotel Oct. 2.

E. B. Helmstreet, Lake Mills, assistant adjutant general for the department of Wisconsin of the G. A. R., will be "proximo" Past Commander James P. Carle, Janesville, has offered to assist.

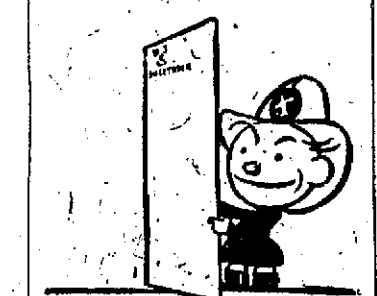

Membership in the order which now has seven chapters in Wisconsin at Stoughton, Madison, Racine, Milwaukee, Antigo, Eau Claire and Kenosha is open to all female descendants of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines of the United States army in service during 1861-1865.

The purpose of the organization is to perpetuate the memory of the men who saved the Union, to care for the destitute G. A. R. men, to stimulate patriotism and loyalty among the members of the order, and to teach the rising generation a broader patriotism, a knowledge of the principles for which they fought.

New Books on Library Shelves Prove Popular

New features of interest and new books of varying types are added weekly at the Janesville Public Library and some new departure greets one's eye with almost every visit. Now a large radio map, showing location of the various stations has been fastened to a large bulletin board facing the main desk. New books added are told of in the book covers, fastened to another bulletin board on the desk.

New reference books are especially good and many who are perplexed with various problems will find answers in some of the following books: "Business Law", Parsons; "Educational Directory", Patterson; "Etiquette", Emily Post; "Women of 1923", and 800 Theme Assignments. The latter book is the most widely read of its kind and covers every situation in social etiquette that could possibly arise. "Women of 1923" contains a directory of the officers of all women's clubs in the country. In addition, Mrs. Lydia Cates, librarian, has secured the collateral reading list of the University Extension Division, in English may select an assignment at the institution without bringing in their own list-along.

Some of the new titles added within the week are the following: "Business Geography" (commercial), Huntington; "Judging Human Character", Rollingsworth; "Girth Control", Flinck; "Variety in the Little Garden", King; "Creative Selling", Mackintosh; "Last of the Vikings", Johan Bojer; "Outwitting Our Nerves", Jackson; "Child Training and 'Snaps to Mothers'", Angelo Patri; "What's Wrong with Our Girls?", Hale; "Importance of Bird Life", Hartley; "The Lone Wanderer", Green; "Vivian's", Murray; and "Diet and Health, with the key to the Calories", Peters.

The most noteworthy of these books are "Girth Control" and "The Last of the Vikings". The former is one of the most pleasant means of learning how to reduce or gain and at the same time have a lot of fun. For the book abounds in many humorous paragraphs. It will teach would-be dieters many things they did not know before. "The Last of the Vikings" is fiction and is to the sea what "Growth of the Soil" is to the earth. It is an epic in the finest style of the author of "The Great Hunger" and "The Treacherous Ground."

A special loan of German books has been received from the Traveling Library department at Madison. These books are available now for those who enjoy reading in the German language and have found a scarcity of such books since the war.

Contracts awarded up to Sept. 1, amounted to $5,455,000, an increase of 8 per cent over the total for the corresponding eight months of last year.

Last month's record included: $1,828,700, or 38 per cent, for residential buildings; $1,739,700, or 34 per cent, for public works and utilities; and $405,000, or 8 per cent, for religious and memorial buildings.

State to Invite Foreign Envoys to Products Expo

At Associated Press.] Milwaukee—Representatives of all foreign legations at Washington are to be sent invitations to attend the Wisconsin Products Exposition to be held in the Milwaukee auditorium, Dec. 1-10. It is announced by the managing director.

The diplomats will be invited to obtain first hand information on the methods used in the world's greatest dairy district, and also to be present at the only event of its kind in the United States—a joint exposition of all the producing sources in the state.

Plans also are under way to ask governors of various states to name delegations to visit the exposition. Entertainment and decorative features this year will be on a much broader scale than in 1922, according to the announcement, which states the entertainment will be on the principal stage of the building, or what is known as the arena. It is expected to be in the nature of a hippodrome with several spectacles of an unusual nature.

Virtually half of the space of the exposition already has been reserved by firms and organizations who signed formal contracts after the show of last year, the director said.

Pierson Accepts Call to Pennsylvania Pastorate; Will Leave City Oct. 31

The Rev. R. G. Pierson, for the past seven years pastor of the local First Baptist church, will leave the city Oct. 31 to accept his new pastorate at a Baptist church at Pittsburgh, Pa. His resignation, to take effect that date, was accepted at a meeting of the church Thursday night after Rev. Mr. Pierson's statement was read.

Pulpit Committee Chosen
A pulpit committee was selected to seek a new pastor and those making up this committee are C. Hanchett, chairman; Robert Cunningham, secretary; Miss Mary Barker, E. N. Erickson, Mrs. Lillian Eddy, T. T. Hitchett, and Rev. Mr. Pierson.

Following is the statement read by the pastor, and accepted, when the sentiment of the meeting was found to be that, while the church regretted losing its pastor, the work he will have will better him:

Secretly Leaving City
"I have already told you that I have been considering leaving the field of work should the call come to me. Last Sunday the following telegram was received from the Dornen Baptist church of Pittsburgh, Pa. (The church is an unusual one, call to pasture. Large vote. Fine feeling.)

"This call came to me unsought and presents to me a great opportunity for Kingdom service, therefore I am accepting it. I wish at this time to present my resignation as your pastor, asking that it become effective Oct. 31. This will give you six weeks to seek a new pastor and I shall be very glad to assist you in every way possible.

"In returning to you the trust with which you honored me seven years ago, I want to thank you most heartily for the love, you have expressed and the co-operation you have shown. I appreciate the confidence you have had in my leadership and the loyalty you have exhibited in the work we have been doing for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom.

You have shown many kindnesses to me and my family and we greatly appreciate them all. You have been most considerate and generous. In times of sickness and sorrow you have shown your Christian love in many practical ways. We regret to break the ties, but feel that the larger service calls, and in making the call we must make some sacrifices.

"I will go to my new work with the belief that I still have your love and friendship which will give me courage and confidence. May God give you wisdom and courage as you face the future. May you be a blessing to the world, and may the means of leading you to greater and greater achievements in Kingdom work.

"I pray that you may always remember Jesus Christ and give Him your best."

NEW POLICY FOR DISPOSAL OF BIG U. S. FLEET SIGHT
Washington—The administration today again faced the task of formulating a policy for disposal of the government's merchant fleet as a substitute for that contemplated in the Lasker-Farley plan, which Attorney General Daugherty has declared illegal.

In an opinion submitted to President Coolidge yesterday, the attorney general held that the Lasker-Farley plan for transferring the fleet to corporations organized under state laws would be unlawful, under provisions of the shipping act limiting disposition of the fleet to cash or credit sales.

The proposed transfer of title to ships in consideration of stock in the corporation, the opinion held, is authorized neither expressly nor by implication to be drawn from provisions of the act.

HOW MAX MEISEL SAVED THE LIFE OF JAMES ZANIAS

Had Max Meisel not stopped James Zanias at the door of the Saxo theater and talked at some length, Manager Zanias of the Apollo would probably be either dead or a mangled victim of the collapse of the theater building Tuesday.

Mr. Zanias was to have been the manager of the new Saxo theater. Recently he has spent much time inside the new building watching the completion and making suggestions. Tuesday he was on his way to the interior of the building when Max Meisel stopped him. Max had just returned from a week spent in celebration of the Jewish New Year and was telling Mr. Zanias about that and some other things.

The manager had his hand on the door and was waiting for Max to finish. But Max talked on and just as he turned away came the crash. Zanias had the door partially open and had started to step through. Max immediately had business in another direction and Zanias, covered with dust, was never more thankful than for the fact that Max had said so much.

POLL SUIT BASED ON REGISTRATION

State Supreme Court Takes Under Adversement Case of Kenosha Official.

Madison—The Wisconsin supreme court was called upon today to decide whether an elector who fails to assume himself that his name is in the list of registered voters, can cast a ballot at the general election.

Upon the determination of this question depends the outcome of the action commenced by Frank S. Symmonds, former district attorney of Kenosha county, to oust Morris Barnett, his opponent at the election, from the office of district attorney. Judge B. B. Balen, in Kenosha county circuit court, held that Barnett had failed of election because 578 electors were not on the registry list before they voted. From this decision the appeal was taken.

Arguments before the supreme court today brought the claim from Symmonds that 113 votes in the sixth ward of Kenosha and 400 votes in the eighth ward were illegal, and that Barnett, as a consequence, has unlawfully taken office as district attorney's office. He contended that the acceptance of these 578 votes would mean a disregard of the registration laws, constitutionally upheld by the high court. A duty rests upon the voter to see that his name is on the registry list before casting his ballot, Symmonds claimed.

Attorneys for Barnett argued that mere failure to register did not disqualify electors, who had an unquestioned right to vote. It was pointed out that there were no claims of fraud or irregularities in the election.

The court took the case under advisement.

CHIROPRACTORS IN $100,000 SUIT

New York Man Sues Head of Palmer School of Chiropractic.

Claiming $100,000 in damages, Francesco X. Sauchelli, prominent New York City chiropractor, has through his attorney, Charles A. Bass, filed a suit against Dr. J. V. Palmer, founder and head of the Palmer School of Chiropractic in the United States District Court, southern district, Davenport, Ia.

Sauchelli is charged in the complaint, filed in the Davenport court, Thursday, of slandering the New York man as being "a person morally unfit to be trusted by the public, to meet people or practice his profession."

It is further charged that on Oct. 2, 1923, Palmer at a meeting of chiropractors at Memphis, Ind., slandered Sauchelli in "the most malicious fashion, and had such utterances against the plaintiff published throughout the country."

Palmer is alleged, at the meeting, to have charged him immoral.

Palmer is alleged, at the meeting, to have charged Sauchelli of using his office for immoral purposes, stating that "women are unsafe in Dr. Sauchelli's offices."

He has secured publicity by getting the wives of newspaper men and other publicity men, Palmer is alleged to have said, "into compromising situations and then securing chiropractic publicity from the husbands through the wives."

Continuing further in his attack, the school head is charged to have asked: "How would you like your wife or your mother to take adjustments from such a man? He is a disgrace to chiropractic and I am going to drive him out of the profession."

The complaint continues that the plaintiff by virtue of such utterances has been gravely wronged and by the publisher of such false, defamatory and slanderous words has suffered great humiliation and suffered the contumely of erstwhile friends and association in the profession.

Sauchelli is declared one of the most prominent men in the profession and is said to include among his personal clientele such notables as Daniel Frohman, Guy Bolton, Fritz Kreisler, Elsie Janis, Dorothy Jordan and Al Jolson. He is the official chiropractor of the Actors Equity association. He is also the organizer and head of the Chiropractic health center and life extension service of New York City.

Noted as the head of the school of chiropractic, Davenport, Ia., Palmer is a national figure in chiropractic circles. His school is the largest in the country for the training of young men and women for the profession.

Straight As a String, and Something on the Hip, Fashion's Edict for Fall

By PEG O'BRIEN WELSH

"Straight as a string," something on the hip, is the slogan for fall wearing apparel for women. The edict of fashion, June is somewhat trying both literally and figuratively, for how can one condition the "straight as a string," when he has something on the hip, and how like an exclamation point "all the willowy girls look when they are straightened out." Long, slim, unbroken lines in the gowns, presenting a bean pole appearance, is the cry for fall and winter.

The left side is favored for trimmings, reference to the something on the hip, with the result that such effects caught to the left side, buckles of metallic cloth, fur, braid, and metal for necking, a foreign material are being featured. All draping is to the left side and the coat "ross, which is a popular number for autumn street wear, is fastening in the left side. Many of the street dresses, or daytime frocks as they are being dubbed this season, carry out the straight lines throughout, with plain drapery, a inches from the floor and rather narrow.

Some Deviations Offered

A deviation from the straight and narrow path is found in some models, which, with the exception of the shoulder, flared below the knees, in the semi-formal or "next to best" frock, the flaring skirt is shown. A circular skirt, an irregular hem line, or a straight skirt on the skirt "dolly" the dress, fur and beads are used for trimming the fancy skirt lines.

In connection with the afternoon dress, the sleeve is varied from the tight, straight sleeve which went with the long straight dress, to the wide, flared sleeve, which is shown with many of the fancier gowns. A new wrinkle in sleeves is the light, holding in the arm, or to the side, with fur, lace, or other material, and a wide, flared sleeve, which is shown with many of the fancier gowns.

Velvets for Afternoon Wear

Materials for afternoon or dinner wear are of silk, tulle, and velvet. The velvet is being used in the afternoon dress, although there are a few styles which are in the line of the velvet. The velvet is being used in the afternoon dress, although there are a few styles which are in the line of the velvet.

Velvet for Afternoon Wear

Materials for afternoon or dinner wear are of silk, tulle, and velvet. The velvet is being used in the afternoon dress, although there are a few styles which are in the line of the velvet. The velvet is being used in the afternoon dress, although there are a few styles which are in the line of the velvet.

Suits Generally Favored

Suits are generally favored with the exception of a few three-piece models, having the jacket. As in the spring, some of these are shown with an overblouse of silk or tulle, and a jacket of the heavier material. Speaking of the jacket, they are being worn as during the summer, in fur and astrakhan. These are being worn as during the summer, in fur and astrakhan.

For Best, V-neck Trimmed

For best, v-neck trimmed, will dominate. A new, sloping line from the shoulder is being stressed, which gives the garment a hanging effect. Ruffled borders and half circular flounces are shown in the extreme models of coat fashions. The baggy effect in coats is an outgrowth of the Chinese influence, which is the "mandarin coat." Silk bolero, velvet, marvellous and other deep pile fabrics with fur collars of squirrel, ermine, beaver and fox are being worn in the best coats.

Evening Gowns Simple

Jewel cloth, metallic fabrics, and velvets are materials for evening wear, according to the edict of style. Sleeveless, basque and tight bodice effects, with full, unbroken skirts and you have an evening dress. All trimmings on the evening gown must be on the skirts, creators of fashions have decreed. Hence drapery, lace flounces, inserts of a foreign material, and other things below the skirt are touches on the formal dress. The bodice effect gives to the gown a princess effect which, with the flaring skirt, makes the evening gown a quaint creation. Chiffon velvet and brocade make the evening dresses most luxurious and with the touch of metallic jeweled ornaments or fur, the evening gown is complete. Rhinestones trim many of the formal gowns.

All Shapes of Hats

Hats for women always an inexhaustible subject, since in that line of wearing apparel more than in any other is woman individual in her taste. The fashion hat has had its wrought havoc in the millinery world as far as head sizes are concerned, for now every phenological bump has to be reckoned with. What has become a bobbed haired woman will make a long haired woman look like a hobgoblin. This has brought out all sizes and shapes of hats below the crown. Another decided swing of the style pendulum in millinery is the recall of trimmings, particularly ostrich feathers. Not in many seasons have hats been laden with so much trimming. Dripping ostrich, plumes, glycerine peacock, goose and ostrich pen and feather sticks, are being assembled on straw, felt or velvet. For felt and sports hats, whole birds of the parrot or pheasant family are added perched at such a coy angle as to rest the tail on the crown. Sports hats are also trimmed with felt, ostrich and bird feathers. Applied work and embroidery adorn many of the hats for the flapper. Chenille lace, in velvet or tulle, fancy pins of jeweled luster, as the rhinestones, make the dress hat rich in appearance.

Large Hat Seen

Small, close-fitting hats are the bone and sinew of the large hat for dress wear. There is the large hat with uneven brim lines. Crowns are from one to three inches higher than in former years, but being made of drapery or soft effect, can be adjusted to become the wearer and not seem extreme. Away from the face hats are in demand, although the jack or polo shape are attractive to bobbed haired women. Crowns are carrying the burden of trimming this season, with the result that clever manipulations of chenille or metallic materials are being applied onto the tops of the hats.

Brown Predominating Color

Stylish reckoned without color is like a meal without salt, a movie without music. Autumn brings out the brown colors, in keeping with the mood of the season, with occasional splashes of brilliant coloring like an autumnal landscape. A symphony of shades, with the brown family dominating, is the color scheme for the season. From burnished gold and bronze to Congo brown there is a color scale of browns. The brown has recently been rechristened Coolidge brown, complimentary to the president's wife, Mrs. Coolidge.

Green Next in Favor

Green is the next color in favor. Eucalyptus green, which in the spring was eucalyptus green, is the rage. This shade is similar to that of the buds on the trees in early spring. With the coming of fall, the green is being used in the afternoon dress, although there are a few styles which are in the line of the velvet. The velvet is being used in the afternoon dress, although there are a few styles which are in the line of the velvet.

SPEAKER DEFENDS YOUTH OF TODAY

Will Outgrow Jazz Distemper,
Says Churchman at Brotherhood Convention.

Chicago—The twentieth century youth had "burning ears" today, there was a religious cause. Around the present generation was thrown thousands of words at the sessions of the international convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the majority by far in its defense.

The "older boys" rather were the center of attack. Fathers with their sons and the help of other families, were in joint convention to hear several qualified speakers tell them what they could do in the church at home and in the school to stop what they termed "the popular, vulgar sport of playing the jazz-crazed youth of today."

"Frankly, my brethren," said John H. Frisell of Philadelphia, "I believe we are largely to blame. The Twentieth Century youth, charged in many quarters as about the most degenerate, careless, most ungrateful and generally unregenerate lot the world has ever known, gives me no great worry. The present generation, just as it did the crowd, the measles and the mumps, if during the period of illness it gets the right sort of treatment."

The more I see of boys and their fathers, the more I am convinced of the difficulty that boys have in obeying the adult commandment. The average boy is right at heart and his mistakes and failures are largely the reflection of the carelessness of his father. In our leadership and example—who talk so much about our young people and do so little to really help them."

Blast Takes Lives of Experts Who Completed "Gas" Saving Experiment

Washington—The three bureau of standards experts who lost their lives in a laboratory explosion yesterday and the six others who were injured, had just completed experiments which are expected to save 500,000 gallons of gasoline a year.

In their study of evaporation, bureau officials said today the laboratory force had discovered methods for preventing huge waste from this cause and had prepared full charts of great economic value.

The experiments had been proceeding for several months. It was said, and had just reached the stage of a final report on the findings.

Another task recently undertaken was the testing of the engines of the navy airship ZR-1.

L. L. Lanier, New Salem, O., who was instantly killed in the explosion, together with Urban J. Cook, Cincinnati, and Stephen M. Lee of New London, Conn., who died later, had been active in research work for some time. The six injured men also had been active in the same work.

Secretary Hoover has ordered an investigation of the accident, which officials believe was caused by an accumulation of gas set off in some manner by a spark.

Marquette Ends Island Training With Hopes High

(Special to the Gazette.)

Lake Umbagog, Wis.—Coach Frank J. Murray's Marquette university grid-ironers are Friday winding up their two weeks' sojourn in their fall training camp here. Saturday they will "fold up their tent" and board the bus for home at Milwaukee.

The Hilltoppers' two weeks in camp have been successful from every standpoint. The coaches are more than satisfied with development of their men. One more week of practice will have them in good trim for their first game, an informal non-score tilt with Lombard college in Allwaukee, Sept. 29.

A squad of 75 men was maintained throughout the two weeks of preliminary training. Assisted by Coach Leo Scott and Fredson Fitzgerald, Coach Murray daily put his men through five hours of thorough practice that grew stiffer as time progressed. It was the largest squad ever cared for at the island camp.

No Serious Hurts.

The Hilltop aggregation went through its training without serious injuries. The home practice sessions will start Monday with the squad practically intact. Although he had threatened to swing the axe late last week, no cut in the size of the squad was made by Coach Murray. It is believed the largest crew in the history of Marquette athletics will be maintained throughout the season. It is part of the Murray system to keep a large number of men on hand.

Camp casualties include many recruits, among them Joe Heinemann, a Milwaukee native, and a few others. The home practice sessions will start Monday with the squad practically intact. 20 Letter Men Back.

More than 40 veterans of last year's undefeated squad have returned to the fold and are showing well. Twenty are letter men, among them: Jim King, Bob Damoling, Don Curdin, Jim Coggins, William O'Neill and Billy O'Neill. Half-backs returned are: Skemp, Bennett, Leitch, Heinemann, Moran, Kimmell, McCormick, Hall, Fischer, Dilleit and McDonald. Fullbacks are: Sauer, Duff, and Corcoran. Line: Kennedy, Zochler and McElhain, centers: Denton, Sullivan, McMahon, Tienenthal, Cartwright, Linquist and Lane. Guards: Lutz, Dorey and Lane. Tackles: Dillwig, Gayin, Koney, Burdon, Markiewicz, Regan, Sholola, Curran, Cellochowski and Fahay. Ends: Lutz, Dorey and Lane.

Postmaster, Crahan, attended the postal convention at Madison this Friday.

Mr. William Lohman, Janesville, is visiting at the home of her brother, Miner Stort.

COAL PRICES HOISTED.

Philadelphians are increasing ranging from 30 cents to 50 cents a ton on domestic sizes of anthracite coal at the mines were shown in the new price list of three large producing companies.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette—I am in full accord with your editorial in Thursday's Gazette, urging that a community union plan be adopted in Janesville for the raising of money for benevolent and other community purposes.

I trust, however, that the absence of such a plan will not deter the people of this city from giving as liberally as possible in such a plan in many cities throughout the country. They will do this in Janesville when other organizations get ready. The Salvation Army was the only organization in the last community fund campaign in Milwaukee whose budget was not cut or altered in any way by the central committee. The Salvation Army is asking Janesville for a modest sum compared to the splendid service rendered through the day nursery and other departments which give it to them, housed up and running over.

21,700 STUDENTS IN WIS. COLLEGES

(Special to the Gazette.)

Madison—The opportunities for higher education offered by 20 Wisconsin universities, colleges and normal schools are being availed of this year by 21,700 students, whose instruction is costing approximately $11,000,000.

Reports from the various educational institutions of the state which open this month show that the present year is the biggest yet in the number of students attending the universities and colleges. While several normals show a lower enrollment than in 1922, the greater number of colleges, the University of Wisconsin and Marquette university expect a larger attendance.

It will take over 2,000 instructors to conduct classes in subjects of higher education increased by the 21,700 students. Increasing student bodies have caused many of the institutions either to be constructing new buildings or to have construction plans under contemplation.

The University of Wisconsin is shown to be the largest educational institution in the state, with an expected attendance of 7,500 regular session students, in addition to the number reached by extension division courses. Here over 750 instructors are engaged in teaching.

COLORED LEADER AT WHITE HOUSE

Support of Southern Delegates for Coolidge Seen by Observers.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily
Gazette.

Washington—Henry Lincoln Johnson, of Georgia, probably the most influential of the colored political leaders of the country, had a private talk with President Coolidge in the White House today. Johnson is the member of a republican national committee from Georgia who caused a stir at the 1920 national republican convention at Chicago when his delegates nominated him from the floor to the surprise of the other republicans who claimed him for their own.

It had been agreed he would make a fight for a place on the republican national committee. Since that time he was nominated by Mr. Harding to be Recorder of Deeds in the District of Columbia, but the United States senate declined to confirm the nomination.

Asked what the purpose of his visit to the White House was, Johnson said on leaving the executive offices:

"I was feeling badly, and I came to pay my respects to President Coolidge. You know I was educated almost entirely by New England Yankees, friends and neighbors of Mr. Coolidge, so that I feel that through his friends he has been my schoolmaster."

Johnson is a tall figure with an oratorical turn of phrase and an emphatic style of expression.

"Are you still republican national committee man from Georgia," he was asked by one of the newspapermen who had not been following the affairs of colored voters in the south very closely.

"Yes," snapped Johnson. "I am and always will be."

Probably the visit of Johnson means the support to President Coolidge of certain colored delegates from the southern states to the republican national convention of 1924. There always is a scramble to swing these delegates in line and there have been frequent contests as to the eligibility of the delegates usually on the ground that improper influences were brought to bear to secure their support.

"Coolidge will win."

The president is, of course, anxious for the presidential nomination and so far as official Washington is concerned there is little doubt that he has the inside track. Only today Postmaster General New, added his prediction to that of other members of the cabinet to the effect that Mr. Coolidge will win. When certain republican leaders told President Coolidge that he should appoint C. Bascom Sloop as his private secretary they paid high tribute to the latter's political ability. Mr. Sloop, however, has not been in good favor with the colored political leaders so that President Coolidge has had to act more or less as a conciliator to serve the support of the colored people.

Mr. Coolidge on Tuesday in receiving a delegation of colored women had an opportunity to explain how warm his sympathies for the colored race. His visitors came with a po-

Too Many Johnsons; Swedish Colleges Would Change Plan

Rockford—A movement to reform Swedish-American family names has been started by the five Swedish-American colleges, Augustana, Gustavus Adolphus, Bellamy, Upsala and North Park colleges, following the example set by the Swedish government several years ago.

Difficulties arising from the large number of Johnsons, Andersons, Petersons, Olsons, Swensons and other prominent Swedish names in various Swedish-American communities has caused the five colleges to start a campaign to change the names.

The younger generation of Johnsons, Petersons, Andersons, etc., will be encouraged to change their names to reduce the number of common Swedish names.

In Sweden the custom is for the son to take the first name of the father and add "son" to it. For instance, if the father's name is John, the son assumes the name of Johnson.

Postmaster Arthur L. Johnson has received a communication asking his co-operation in the reform movement.

"Personally, I have worked to build up the name of Arthur L. Johnson and would hate to change to something else. I return change to something else," said Mr. Johnson, "but as postmaster I can see the need for some kind of a change. We should number our names in Rockford and similar numbers of other Johnsons, Petersons, and so forth."

Dr. G. A. Brandell, president of Augustana Synod, saw difficulties ahead 40 years ago and changed his name from Johnson to Brandell. The change will not appeal to the older generation but the younger generation may see the advisability of it," said Mr. Johnson.

Meeting Colored Delegates. What President Coolidge said in reply was not given out for publication, but those who heard remarks described it as "a beautiful little speech." Mr. Coolidge had another engagement today with a colored delegation, this being the Order of Moses which claims a membership of 250,000 people.

Besides the colored visitors there were others who talked politics with President Coolidge, namely, Charles W. Montgomery, republican state committeeman from Ohio, and James B. Reynolds, former secretary of the republican national committee. They came separately. The only democrat on the calling list was Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who came to introduce some friends who wanted to meet Mr. Coolidge. He was received immediately after Henry Lincoln Johnson left.

Fast Repairing by Phone Crew

When the Sax theater, dumbed Tuesday afternoon, 100 telephone subscribers were deprived of service by the breaking of cables. Within an hour, the Wisconsin Telephone company had all but 19 of them in working order again by splicing on to other "ends."

When the extent of the disaster was seen, the local company rushed an emergency truck to Beloit and brought back material that had been delivered there for new installation. With the aid of electric lights, crews worked until midnight Tuesday and resumed on Wednesday at 7 a. m., continuing to 3 p. m.

All service was in working order again at 3 o'clock Wednesday.

MEN'S SHOPS IN GAY FALL ATTIRE

No Startling Changes in Styles —Extreme Models Are Passe.

With the coming of fall, Janesville, clothiers are offering the seasons latest modes and displaying the newest fashions in men's clothing.

"Practically all of the local shops have arranged special window displays of the fashions which will predominate during the fall and winter."

A survey of shop windows discloses no startling changes in the styles of 1922, although the once popular jazz models seem to be even more extinct than last year.

Few of the local merchants are offering the extreme styles that were once heavy sellers.

The three-buttoned and four-buttoned suits seem to be the most popular models on display. The backs in some cases are without vents, although most of the suits contain them. Pockets in most cases are finished with flaps, while the lapels are slightly peaked. The trousers are natural-fitting, the tendency for bells having practically disappeared. The standard cuffs are also in mode.

Norfolk Will Be Worn.

The two button double breasted sack suit is another model, which clothiers predict will be especially popular throughout the season, along with the three buttoned double breasted. Materials in favor are cheviot, worsted, twill, striped worsted and nonsumur. The colors are slightly more conservative than those of the past season with grays, dark browns, blues and mixtures the favorites. Norfolds and belted models, popular with the younger generation, will also be worn throughout the year, although to a lesser degree than in 1922.

Fall top coats are of brighter hues and with more dashing cuts. The belted models for youths and young men in brilliant browns, greens and mixtures will undoubtedly be worn while the plain regulation length will be favored by the older buyers.

Tweed and polo are the two leading materials for suits of galadivines and whipcords are also expected.

Headgear Changes.

Felt hats, local dealers say, will be worn much more this season than ever before. The style tendency is for turned edges. Cloth hats for men about wear are also on the market. They are made of rough finished fabrics and intended for sport wear. Beaver finished hats are also correct. The modes are made with just the right proportion of crown and brim to become the majority of young men and are appropriately trimmed. Caps will be light in color and fuzzy in material, although smooth checks and other types will be worn.

Slight changes in shirt styles are noticeable, although the collar attached type seems to be in prominence. Ties are brilliant in color with the knitted type almost passe. The collars will be practically the same as in the past, with a few new types on display.
